

Proud to be a member of HMS Heroes

On the 27th January 2012 my family and I went to HMS Excellent in Portsmouth. There were lots of men smartly dressed going to receive a medal for going to Afghanistan.

When it started all the men paraded out and stood in very straight lines, next a helicopter landed, and out stepped Camilla, the Duchess of Cornwall, she and some Admirals presented the medals.

Finally we went inside for lunch, it was lovely. Also the Duchess of Cornwall came to speak with us and she asked us lots of questions like "is it nice having your dad back" she was lovely and it was an excellent day.
