

UNIVERSITY SUBJECT TALKS

On June 15, Mark Rawlinson, Associate Professor in Art History at University of Nottingham, will kick off a great programme of Arts events with a diverse range of speakers and universities. These are aimed at enriching students' existing studies and interests whilst supporting their research into HE.

Mark will explore the significant shifts in British and American Art after 1945 when long-standing ideas about artists and artworks were challenged and the connection between art and high-culture was consciously demolished.

- June 15 @ 09:30 - 10:30 insight4me History of Art - British & American Contemporary Art 1945+ with Nottingham (KS5) Find out more »

On Thursday 17, Mark Tillotson & Viv Kerridge from Bishop Grosseteste University (BGU) will bring to life the exciting medium of outdoor performance.

We have a fascinating talk confirmed from The University of Sheffield on 16th June which will explore the toppling of the Colston statue during Black Lives Matter protests and will address the cultural and political geographies of the public memorial and the question of historical memory.

Dr Jessica Dubow is a Reader in Cultural Geography at The University of Sheffield and the session is ideally suited to Human Geography students (individuals and student groups are welcome) but it will also be very relevant for History, Sociology, Politics and Philosophy students, among others.

Please see the details below.

University guidance videos for school groups and students

These videos have one key aim. To support students who are considering university to make informed future decisions. They feature guest speakers from a range of different universities, who are always experts in the subject they are speaking about.

They are always independent, impartial, and under one hour to suit timetabling requirements. They include the general content students will find useful – like how to write personal statements, student finance, UCAS applications and more.
