UNIVERSITY WEBINARS

In this our Think Tank on 27th September, we consider the fast moving and ubiquitous development of Artificial Intelligence. In a lively and challenging debate guided by the audience's live and pre-submitted questions/arguments, we will explore the issues, technology, threats and opportunities of Artificial Intelligence.

Our panel includes Dr Euan McGookin, Senior Lecturer (Autonomous Systems & Connectivity) at University of Glasgow and Dr Mike Smith, Research Fellow in the Department of Computer Science in the Machine Learning Group at The University of Sheffield. With introductory inputs from both speakers, the session will run using a 'Question Time' format.

• September 27 @ 16:15 - 17:15 Artificial Intelligence – University Perspectives & Debate – Glasgow & Sheffield (KS4 & KS5) Find out more » [NEW]

We begin with Dr George Bodie who presents 'The Cold War Then and Now', exploring the question 'what is a Cold War?' and revealing the disagreement between historians on this question. George will move on to understanding the relationship between the Cold War past and contemporary international relations.

Then, on October 3rd, Dr Ariel Hessayon examines arguably the most turbulent period in English history: 1641–1660. Ariel looks at how this period has been interpreted and the 'attempted marginalisation of radicalism during the English Revolution'. Ariel will explore radicalism during the English Revolution, presenting some alternative and insightful perspectives on the period.

Dr Lana Chikhungu is Senior Lecturer in International Development Studies and Course Leader for the MSc International Development at University of Portsmouth. Lana's research examines population health and gender focusing on maternal health and child health in the Global South.

On 25 September, Lana will review the debates on how aid perpetuates the Global South's economic dependency on the Global North, asking the question Does Aid Really Benefit The Beneficiary?

• September 25 @ 16:15 - 17:00 Politics/Geography/Economics: Rethinking Aid & Development In The Global South - University of Portsmouth (KS5) Find out more » [NEW]

On 20th September we are really pleased to welcome Dr Geraint D'Arcy from UEA who will explore Moon (2009) and Ex Machina (2014). The session aims to show how something that looks like a straightforward science fiction film set in the future, hides a much older, darker and mysterious set of conventions and codes by analysing the mise en scène.

• September 20 @ 15:35 - 16:20 Film/Media: Mise En Scène Analysis - Moon (2009) & Ex Machina (2014) - UEA (KS5) Find out more » [NEW]

This is ideal for Film and Media groups and individuals interested in discussing and considering alternative perspectives related to the films and/or interested in the application of mise en scène analysis.

On 19th September, Dr Ekaterina Rozanova from the Department of Politics and International Relations at Goldsmiths, University of London, will investigate the role and impact of regional organizations, with a particular focus on BRICS (Brazil, Russia, India, China, South Africa) and the SCO (Shanghai Cooperation Organization).

Arguing that the BRICS economy has become stronger than that of the G7 and the SCO covers almost twice as much population as NATO, yet both are often underreported in Western media, Ekaterina considers the opportunities and challenges these two regional organizations offer for world peace and prosperity.

September 19 @ 11:10 - 12:00 Politics/Geography: Regional Organizations - BRICS & SCO - Goldsmiths (KS5) Find out more » [NEW]

This is suitable for groups and individuals who would like to further develop and enrich the discussions they are having in the classroom as part of their Politics and/or Geography studies.

Sutton School Trust Pathways Programme

What are the Pathways programmes?

Our Pathways programmes support disadvantaged students in Year 12 – 13 to explore career opportunities in Banking & Finance (both in-person and online), Consulting (online), Engineering (in-person), Law (in-person and online), Medicine (in-person), and Veterinary Medicine (hybrid) for free.

Far too often these careers require professional connections, the ability to take on unpaid internships, and/or soft skills which aren't taught at schools in order to break in. Our Pathways programmes bridge that gap for disadvantaged students.

All costs including travel, accommodation, food and activities are covered by the Trust and our partners which means it is completely free of charge for students to attend.
